

give him access to the deck and the house. That area is about 20 feet off the ground. I immediately went over there and he told me he had every right to be there and he would come and go as he pleased."

"Three years ago he mistakenly assumed that I had had an affair. He got very abusive at that time and has been since. He was doing drugs at the time too. He would scream at Liz...they would argue over the thermostat...he went up and hacked up the ductwork to shreds so she couldn't control it. Another time he pushed and shoved her to get to me. She's 17. He has hit me in the parking lot of the office. Cunt, slut, whore, bitch, it's like that is my name, He has vandalized my desk. He has entered my home without me knowing he was there. I asked him to leave...he started to advance on me...I dialed 911. While the policeman was there taking a report he called nine times and the officer told him he had to cease and desist. He's punched me. He dumped a huge glass of tea all over me. He slammed his fist on my desk and broke all of my knick knacks that the employees had given me."

Petitioner feels that Respondent's abuse is worse when he is under the influence of crystal meth. "He does still have a drug problem. If he was high it was really a scary thing. Before he moved out he had all of the windows boarded up so that the people outside couldn't see him or follow him."

"My fear is that when he gets out of jail he will come around and try to make good on his threats that he made. I need to protect myself, and my children, and my employees." Petitioner requests a Temporary Protective Order be granted at this time.
