I am taking back all the employees that I want and they are so happy to get the fuck away from your lovely work place. Everybody there except for Larry, Dave and a few others hate your mothers guts. I have your people calling me everyday begging to come over and as soon as I take delivery of my new trucks, I am going to decimate your company. We have taken hundreds of customers just by being nice. I took one today who said you guys were the biggest bunch of assholes he ever spoke to. And that repeats itself everyday week after week. You are on the way out and we are on the way up. And there is nothing your mother or her assholes lawyers can do. You guys are going to be declared administratively insolvent. In other words, there is no way your pathetic crippled company can make the amount of money needed to pay current bills and pay back all the money your mother stole. Plus she has to pay her lawyer thieves at the start
